Think for yourself; act for others

2 March 2022

Dear Parents/Carers,

The second set of year 11 mock exams will run between 14 March and 18 March 2022. Core exams will take place during this period in the examination rooms, however, there may also be option subject mock exams within lessons. Your child will have been told about these by their individual subject teachers.

You can see the mock exam timetable here and you can find lots of useful revision and study tips to support your child here. Each student will be provided with their own individual timetable prior to the exams. For afternoon exams, students will have a slightly earlier lunch from 12.45pm - 1.15pm to give adequate time for the exam after lunch. If students would like a reminder of the exam expectations and etiquette, the recording is on the Year 11 google classroom (code: 6c7erpl) for students and parents/carers to rewatch if they would like. Our information presentation is also available here, on the school website and via the google classroom page. This has key information about exams, revision, core subjects and key dates.

These exams play a very important role in preparing Year 11 students for their real exams at the end of this academic year - which is just a matter of weeks away! They should be treated that way by parents/carers, teachers and students alike. Not only do they give students a good idea of what it will be like to take their GCSE exams, in a real exam setting, but it also gives the school a good idea about whether students are on target to achieve their predicted grades and where additional support may be required. The school will put provision in place for students whose results suggest they might need it, but we expect all students to show high levels of motivation to achieve their best results possible.

Thank you for your continued support at what can be a challenging time for some of our students.

Kind Regards,
Mrs L. Payne
